Every year on April 22, people from all over the world will celebrate activities that will benefit the Earth and continue to increase a healthy environment. This is called Earth Day. If you have children! What we do to the Earth now, will affect the future generation. You should have your children follow these simple steps: Turn off the light and all electronics when they leave the room. Turn off the faucet while brushing teeth or washing face. Take shorter showers. Don't litter.

To better ensure that your children will follow these steps, make it into a game! Each time they follow one of these steps, give them a star. When they do not, take away a star. By the end of the day, have them count their stars and whatever number they have, give them a treat! This will help your children to learn quickly, which in return will be one step closer to keep the environment clean.
